Time Line

1954 - The first Angelos is opened, located beside the old Southern Bell Company building in the downtown area. Receiving a warm welcome from the community as well as rave reviews.

1958 - Angelo Butchikas moves to the beach and opens his own restaurant "Angelo's Steak Pit." It is located where it stands today on Front Beach Road and was previously the old "94" club.

1980 - The first of many expansions are started. This one involved the front entrance as well as the lobby area.

1990's - The second expansion is done to create a larger "Steak Pit" and service area as well as more seating capacity.

1990's - Angelos "By the Sea" opens. It is located on West Beach Drive and also has deck side parking. Angelo Butchikas was the building designer, proprietor and was way ahead of his time.

1970's - Front Beach Road is four lanes and out of concern for lack of traffic, a giant steer is erected to grab attention of passers by. After a "Name the Steer" contest is finished, the winning name is awarded and "Big One" comes to life.

Present Day - Angelos' Steak Pit still serving thousands of people a season with the guarantee that "You Won't Get a Bam Steer Here and That's NO BULL!"
